Bidding process for the 2018 FIFA World Cup™ and the 2022 FIFA World Cup™

Dear Sir or Madam,

Based on the decision of the FIFA Executive Committee to open a simultaneous bidding process for the 2018 FIFA World Cup™ and the 2022 FIFA World Cup™, we are pleased to invite you to express your interest in submitting a bid to FIFA for either or both of these competitions.

At this stage of the bidding process, FIFA would like to emphasise that the infrastructure and facilities in the host country must be of the highest quality in order to fulfil the requirements of the world's most popular sporting event. Approximately 12 stadiums with minimum capacities of between 40,000 for group matches and 80,000 for the opening match and final, are required to host the FIFA World Cup™, which is expected to be contested by 32 teams. In addition, the very highest standards of TV broadcasting, information and telecommunications technology, transport and accommodation are an absolute must.

It is also important to point out that the FIFA Confederations Cup will be hosted the year before the respective FIFA World Cup™, not only as a major competition in its own right, but also to test the infrastructure of the host country for the following year's showcase event.

The FIFA World Cup™ is unrivalled in its power to awaken emotions, capture the imagination and unite people all over the world in celebration. FIFA is determined that this overwhelming ability to reach out to the world should benefit the game of football itself and society in general. Future hosts of the FIFA World Cup™ will therefore be expected to ensure that their hosting of the event is tied in with efforts to achieve positive change, in keeping with FIFA's philosophy: For the Game. For the World.

Full details about the requirements for staging the FIFA World Cup™ will be stipulated in the bid documents and hosting documents, to be dispatched by FIFA to interested member associations only.

Pursuant to article 76 of the FIFA Statutes, the following entry conditions apply to interested member associations:

- member associations affiliated to CAF and CONMEBOL may not participate in the bidding process with respect to the 2018 FIFA World Cup™;

- member associations affiliated to CONMEBOL may not participate in the bidding process with respect to the 2022 FIFA World Cup™;
- subject to the above, member associations may participate in the bidding process for either or both the 2018 FIFA World Cup™ and/or the 2022 FIFA World Cup™. However, in line with article 76 of the FIFA Statutes, member associations from the same confederation will not be appointed to host consecutive editions of the FIFA World Cup™. FIFA will therefore not appoint a host member association for the 2022 FIFA World Cup™ from the same confederation as the host member association of the 2018 FIFA World Cup™.

All relevant information about the bidding process will be given in the Bid Registration form which will be provided by FIFA to the member associations that submit the completed Expression of Interest form. A summary of the key information on the bidding process is provided below.
