Football in Hungary

Few associations can match the football pedigree of the Hungarian Football Federation, which was founded in 1901. A successful team from the outset, Hungary were regular features at major tournaments, such as the first Olympic Football Tournament (Stockholm 1912) and the first FIFA World Cup™ (Uruguay 1930). Hungary were a true force to be reckoned with and were unbeaten for nearly a decade, a period that included a stunning 6-3 victory against England on the hallowed Wembley turf. The 1954 FIFA World Cup™ Final in Berne against West Germany will also live long in the memory, as Hungary lost and the defeat signalled the start of a return to normality. Countless Hungarian officials have also excelled within FIFA and UEFA, while Hungarian referees also have an enviable reputation and are subsequently regular participants in final competitions. In the first 100 years of its existence, the Hungarian national team played 747 matches against 72 different opponents, winning 368, drawing 166 and losing just 213. A proud record for a proud association!

The first Goal project

At its meeting on 14 February 2004, the Goal Bureau added Hungary to the list of countries to receive funds towards a Goal project. After a lengthy period of evaluation, the Hungarian association presented the Goal Bureau on 7 November 2005 with a project for building modern administrative offices in Budapest that would meet the needs of a large football association. The project, opened on 25 October 2006, was funded by Goal and other external sources.

Second Goal project

After a long period of inactivity, the Hungarian Football Federation has launched a number of important projects in quick succession in the last ten years. The new federation headquarters were inaugurated at the end of 2005, and the Goal Bureau approved a second project on 21 March 2007, this time for a technical centre in Budapest to consolidate all coaching and educational activities, particularly at youth level, and for training national teams at all levels. This project was inaugurated on 3 May 2009.

Third Goal project

The Hungarian Football Federation's third project was wide-reaching, and involved the installation of several hundred artificial turf pitches of all sizes all over the country. The basis for the project was a plan drawn up by local and regional authorities in cooperation with centres of education. The project was coordinated by an agency with close links to the federation and was approved by the Goal Bureau on 4 February 2008. The project was inaugurated on 3 May 2009 together with the federation's second project

Women's football

When, in 1995, today's FIFA President said "The future of football is feminine", it was more than mere lip service. It reflected a strong belief in the huge potential that women's football has to develop. Ever since, FIFA has given targeted support for the efforts of associations who offer women the same opportunities to develop as male players. Launched in 1998, FIFA's Financial Assistance Programme (FAP) introduced a requirement in 2004 for the associations and confederations to invest at least 4% of their FAP funding into women's football. This threshold was increased to 10% in 2005. On top of this commitment, FIFA also promotes the women's game in more general ways by directly financing women's matches and organising competitions and symposiums. Thanks to its development programmes, FIFA is also playing an active role in the training of administrators, coaches, referees and sports doctors.
