

- Association founded 1974
- Affiliated to FIFA in 1996

Flag

Association emblem

World map

Football on the British Virgin Islands

Football is the number one sport but its development has been jeopardised by a lack of sporting infrastructure and a dearth of football facilities in particular. However, thanks to the funding provided by FIFA through its Financial Assistance Programme, the association has been able to establish a permanent administration, which will oversee football on all of the islands.

The Goal Project

On 22 September 2004, the Goal Bureau approved plans to build a national technical centre on the main island of the British Virgin Islands. The association had faced problems finding an appropriate location because of a shortage of flat land on Tortola, where the association's headquarters are situated. Eventually, a plot was found on government-owned property. The new project will undoubtedly have a positive impact on football on the islands.

Financing of Goal project

Project

Technical centre in Tortola

Project approved

22 September 2004

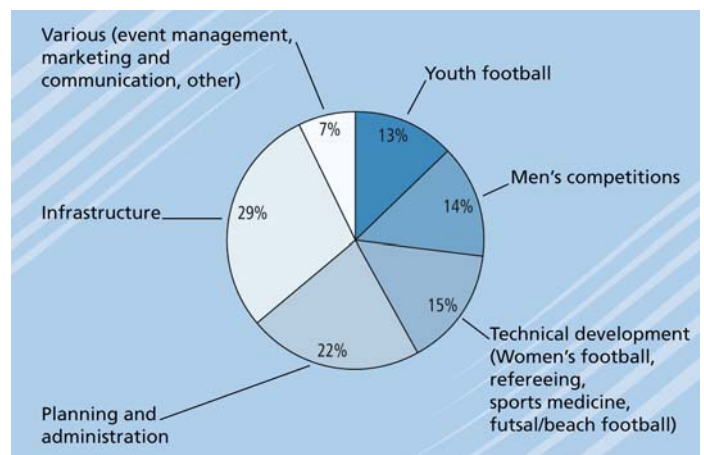

Status

Implementation

Financed by

Goal	USD	400,000
FAP	USD	75,450
Total cost	USD	475,450

Use of FAP funds

Football education and courses	No of courses until 1990	1991	1992	1993	1994	1995	1996	1997	1998	1999	2000	2001	2002	2003	2004	2005	2006	2007	2008	2009	2010
FUTURO III regional courses
Refereeing (men and women)
Coaching (men)
Coaching (women)
Administration and management
Football medicine
Seminars
Women's football
Futsal
Com-Unity
MA Seminars
MA courses
Administration
Refereeing (men and women)
Coaching (men and women)
Beach soccer
Futsal
Olympic solidarity coaching courses								●
Development courses and academies (1975 - 1990)
FUTURO I-II courses for all football branches	0

●: Course host country

□: Course participant in another country

Women's football

When, in 1995, today's FIFA President said "The future of football is feminine", it was more than mere lip service. It reflected a strong belief in the huge potential that women's football has to develop. Ever since, FIFA has given targeted support for the efforts of associations who offer women the same opportunities to develop as male players. Launched in 1998, FIFA's Financial Assistance Programme (FAP) introduced a requirement in 2004 for the associations and confederations to invest at least 4% of their FAP funding into women's football. This threshold was increased to 10% in 2005. On top of this commitment, FIFA also promotes the women's game in more general ways by directly financing women's matches and organising competitions and symposiums. Thanks to its development programmes, FIFA is also playing an active role in the training of administrators, coaches, referees and sports doctors.

Does an organised women's football set-up exist?

If so, since when?

From which age on, players are registered?

Women's teams (open or over 16 years)

Women's teams (below 16 years, youth)

National competition (or women's league)

Regional competitions

University competitions

School competitions

Futsal competitions

National "A" team

National youth teams: age categories